NAPA VALLEY, CA

LOCALISM is much larger than wine – it encompasses art, music, food, the land, family, and community. In 2008, while enjoying a family trip to Paso Robles, Nicole and Ryan Knoth had a joint epiphany: living and working in wine country was exactly the lifestyle change they had been looking for. With backgrounds in biotech and marketing, they launched their own brand before even establishing themselves within the wine industry. A common theme found in LOCALISM Wines is that they are distinct, respectful of the vintage and to the true nature of the grapes. Authenticity is the core of everything they do.
